

April 2024 Admission Information

School of Japan Studies

Entrance Examination (English-Speaker track)

< with Japanese Government (MEXT) scholarship opportunity >

The School of Japan Studies offers students the opportunity to study Japan from a multi-disciplinary, international perspective. The program is unique in that it enables Japanese and international students to take the same courses and learn in a shared environment. Students will learn innovative problem-solving skills, which will prepare them for life in an increasingly diverse and globalized world.

Students who enter the School of Japan Studies will take classes from TUFS' Global Liberal Arts Program and Core Seminar Program, while receiving intensive training in Japanese. Upon graduation, students will be awarded a Bachelor's degree in Language and Area Studies. To graduate, students must complete 125 credits and submit a graduation project thesis or equivalent project. These may be written in English or Japanese.

■ Admission Policy

(1) Our Mission

Our mission is to equip students with the skills and knowledge they need to comprehend and address the complex political and socio-economic challenges confronting our increasingly multi-cultural and globalized world. TUFS offers students the opportunity to learn about the languages, cultures, and societies of various world regions, while also providing a nurturing environment that provides students with a specialized knowledge of their chosen field, enhanced communication skills in multiple languages, and broader perspectives.

(2) The Type of Student We Seek

The undergraduate programs at TUFS offer basic grounding in a range of academic disciplines related to the languages, cultures, and societies of diverse regions of the world, as well as in fields that provide a cross-disciplinary perspective on diverse international problems and issues.

TUFS seeks students who have acquired a comprehensive and thorough basic high school education, either in Japan or elsewhere; who are able to think critically, make informed decisions, and express themselves articulately; who have inquiring minds and a thirst for knowledge; who support the University's mission; and who are eager to work together with people of diverse cultural backgrounds to tackle global problems and issues. The School of Japan Studies welcomes those who desire to study Japan from an international perspective to become global leaders with a deep understanding of Japan, or who seek to contribute to the advancement of multilingual and multicultural societies in Japan and elsewhere.

Future career opportunities are to be found in global corporations, Japanese companies seeking to expand globally, municipal, national, and international organizations, as well as in interpreting and translation, tourism and transport, publishing, media-related corporations, educational and research institutions involved in teaching Japanese language and culture, and as a teacher of the Japanese language in junior and senior high schools. Students may also elect to continue their studies at graduate school to pursue careers in research.

(3) Selection Policy (School of Japan Studies Entrance Examination (English-Speaker track))

- This examination is for students seeking to entry the School of Japan Studies.
- This examination is for applicants who have completed secondary school abroad and wish to enter the School of Japan Studies but are not yet proficient in Japanese.
- During the selection process, significant weight will be given to recommendations from overseas high schools.
- The selection process is comprised of a first and second screening. The first screening will be conducted using documents submitted by the applicant, such as academic transcripts and English proficiency scores. Those who pass the initial screening will advance to the second screening, which is carried out in the form of an online interview. During each screening, faculty members will assess applicants' desire to study at TUFS, basic academic skills, and ability to think critically, make informed decisions, and explain their ideas with clarity and precision.

■ Eligibility

Applicants must possess a non-Japanese nationality. In addition, they must meet ONE of the following conditions and ALL of the following qualifications:

1. Conditions

Applicants must meet one of the following conditions.

- (1) Have completed or are expected to complete 12 years of formal education in a foreign country by March 31, 2024 or are considered to have completed an equivalent education by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology – Japan (MEXT).

- (2) Have obtained or are expected to obtain an overseas qualification for university admission, such as an International Baccalaureate, Abitur, Baccalaureate, or GCE A level in a foreign country by March 31, 2024.
- (3) Have completed or are expected to complete 12 years of education at a WASC, CIS, ACSI or NEASC-accredited international school by March 31, 2024.
- (4) Have been screened individually for eligibility and deemed by TUFS to possess the academic ability required to satisfy conditions (1) ~ (3), and will be aged 18 or over as of March 31, 2024.

(Note 1) Those who have completed or are expected to complete less than 12 years of formal education in foreign countries that require at least 12 years of formal education for university entrance, by skipping grades etc. are included.

(Note 2) Students considered to have completed an equivalent education by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology – Japan (MEXT)” are

- ① Those who have passed an accreditation examination in a foreign country (including examinations that are equivalent to national examinations), which tests whether or not an applicant has an academic capacity equivalent to or higher than that of a student who has completed 12 years of formal education in that country and is aged 18 or over as of March 31, 2024.
- ② Those who have completed a school education equivalent to a high school education in a foreign country (including those who have passed the accreditation examination (including examinations that are equivalent to national examinations), which tests whether or not an applicant has an academic capacity equivalent to or higher than that of a student who has completed high school education in that country), and has completed or are expected to complete the MEXT-designated preparatory education for those seeking admission in Japan by March 31, 2024.
- ③ Those who have completed or are expected to complete their compulsory education by March 31, 2024 in a foreign country in which high school requires less than 12 years to complete. Individuals in this category are expected to have completed a course of a formal education, which is separately designated by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology – Japan (MEXT). This restriction applies only to individuals who have completed an education of at least 11 years in a country in which high school requires less than 12 years to complete and who have satisfied other conditions set by MEXT.
