1. What is ISEPTUFS ?

1.1 Purpose of ISEPTUFS

Tokyo University of Foreign Studies offers International Student Exchange Program of Tokyo University of Foreign Studies: ISEPTUFS.

The program provides students with the opportunity to study in Japan and helps them acquire a firm understanding of Japan and the international community. Meanwhile, the program aims to promote meaningful cultural exchange and to contribute to the cultivation of outstanding professionals with international backgrounds. At the same time, TUFs seeks to achieve the goal of 'bilateral exchange in education between international and Japanese students'.

1.2 ISEPTUFS students

The ISEPTUFS program is an exchange program designed for international students who will study from three months to one year at TUFs. Students enrolled in a graduate school in their home universities can select either on undergraduate level course or graduate-level course. Graduate-level course ISEPTUFS students can take both undergraduate-level subjects and graduate-level subjects.

1.3 History of the Program

ISEPTUFS officially began accepting international exchange students from October 1998. The initial short-term exchange program was executed according to the discretion of individual professors. After several changes were added to the program since then, ISEPTUFS has reached the current form of a short-term exchange program.

This year, 2018, will mark the 21th anniversary of ISEPTUFS. Initially, there were only 20 exchange students, but today that number has grown to over 200.

1.4 Characteristics of the Program

In comparison to short-term exchange programs in other universities, ISEPTUFS has certain distinctive characteristics:

- (1) Taking advantage of the 27 regional languages offered at TUFs, exchange students can avail guidance in their mother tongue.
- (2) ISEPTUFS students can take subjects offered by any faculties (there are some exceptions) that they can study various specialized subjects or specialties, such as Japan studies and International studies.
- (3) Japanese students also participate in the ISEPTUFS elective subjects, therefore there will be opportunities for the international exchange students to make friends with their Japanese hosts.

The above three characteristics of the ISEPTUFS reflect the goal of 'bilateral exchange in education between international and Japanese students.'

2. Classes for ISEPTUFS students

2.1 Available Subjects

ISEPTUFS students are able to choose subjects according to their Japanese language proficiency and their demands(there are some exceptions).

Our undergraduate subjects consist of three groups as follows:

(1) Global Liberal Arts Program

Global Liberal Arts Program includes Japanese Language Program (JLP), and TUFU Integrated Program in Japan Studies etc (some of the subject will be taught in English).Please note that ISEPTUFS students are not allowed to take Regional Languages A and B except 'Japanese: Integrated' and 'Japanese Skill'.

(2) Subjects in the School of Language and Culture Studies

The School of Language and Culture Studies comprises diverse scholarships: Linguistics, Language Education, Communication, Multilingual Multicultural Studies, and Regional Literature, Thought and Arts etc. (some courses will be taught in English).

(3) Subjects in the School of International and Social Studies

The School of International and Social Studies covers Area Studies, Cultural Studies, International Relation, Politics, and Economics. (some courses will be taught in English)

2.2 Advice for registration of Subjects: Japanese Language Program

For students who desire higher level of Japanese language, they can take language subjects called Regional Languages A / Japanese: Integrated and Japanese Skill/Focused'.

These subjects are provided as the Japanese Language Program at Tokyo University of Foreign Studies: JLPTUFS that the students can take according to their Japanese language proficiency. For details, please refer to the booklet called "JLPTUFS: Japanese Language Program of TUFUS" (or the following website:

http://www.tufs.ac.jp/intlaffairs/international_student/).

【Placement test】

Students willing to take JLP are required to take a placement test. In accordance with your result of the test (100~800), you can choose the subjects.

【Number of available subjects students can take】
