FUKUSHIMA STUDY TOUR [COIL] VOLUNTEER FIELDWORK & INTERVIEW IN FUKUSHIMA AND MAGAZINE ARTICLE CREATION

ABOUT THE CLASS

The course consists of on-demand preparatory study, in-person preparatory study (2 FEB), fieldwork in Fukushima (5 FEB-7 FEB) and making a magazine article.

Fukushima suffered tremendous damage from multiple disasters, including the earthquake, tsunami, and nuclear accident 15 years ago (as of February 2026). While the locals are actively going about their daily lives, issues related to the incident still need to be resolved. In this fieldwork class, the students will travel to Fukushima and learn from residents directly by working with them on farms and conducting interviews. As a result, students create magazine articles based on their experiences and interviews. The articles will be shared with students in the US who are interested in Fukushima issues.

In charge: FUKUDA AYA, ISHIDA RIE, WILSON RUBY
